ACTION TAKEN REPORT ON STUDENT FEEDBACK – 1

2022-23 ODD

S1:

Based on first-year student feedback, a multi-pronged approach is being adopted to strengthen the learning experience. Problem-solving courses will feature increased class time dedicated to practical exercises. Clear communication, ample assignment completion time, and personalized attention for student inquiries are being emphasized for all faculty. This comprehensive plan aims to cultivate a supportive and enriching academic environment for all freshmen.

S3:

Informed by third-semester student feedback, faculty across disciplines will now utilize a broader range of instructional tools to enhance learning. Additionally, clear and consistent communication, adequate time for assignments and lab records, and personalized attention to address student questions and clear up lingering conceptual gaps are key priorities.

S5:

Taking into account feedback from fifth-semester students, several faculty adjustments are being made. Instructors of problem-solving courses will incorporate a wider variety of didactic tools to enrich their curriculum. Additionally, remedial classes will be offered to address any knowledge gaps identified in the feedback. Moreover, all faculty remain committed to clear communication with students, ensuring sufficient time for assignments and lab records. Finally, fostering an environment that encourages individual attention and prompt doubt clarification remains a cornerstone for all instructors.

S7:

Informed by the feedback from graduating students, a series of pedagogical adjustments have been implemented. Instructors are encouraged to utilize a wider range of teaching aids, fostering a more engaging learning environment. Furthermore, recognizing the importance of holistic development, increased emphasis will be placed on co-curricular activities like placement training, allowing students to dedicate time for job preparation. Encouraging open communication remains a priority, with faculty urged to prioritize clear and consistent communication with students. This includes allocating ample time for project work and independent study, such as literature reading, to enhance academic achievement and overall student engagement.

To improve the learning experience for second-semester students, faculty will be making several changes based on student feedback. Professors will focus on communicating course material clearly and consistently, ensuring everyone understands. They'll also be dedicating more class time to resolving student questions and confusion. To make learning more engaging, instructors will make greater use of whiteboards or other visual aids. Finally, students will be given more resources to help them study outside of class and solidify their understanding.

Based on the feedback given by fourth-semester students told, we're making improvements to how teachers deliver their courses. Professors will make sure to explain things clearly and consistently, which will help keep students engaged. We'll also be putting more emphasis on keeping classrooms orderly so everyone can learn best. Teachers will be encouraged to take extra time to answer questions and give students individual help when they need it. They'll also be using more tools like blackboards and presentations to make learning interesting. On top of that, students will get a wider range of study materials to help them understand the material fully. Finally, we'll be helping teachers develop strategies to prepare students for their upcoming exams.

Based on the feedback given by sixth semester steps are taken to improve their learning experience. Professors will focus on getting students more involved in activities outside of class. They'll also be working on better communication, making sure there's enough time to answer questions and giving students extra help. To keep things interesting, teachers will use more tools like whiteboards and presentations. Students will also get more resources to study with and extra time in the library. Finally, we're still focused on helping students ace their exams.

To better prepare eighth-semester students for their careers, we've made some changes based on their feedback. Professors will be including more activities outside of class that connect what students learn in school to real-world jobs. There will also be a bigger focus on helping each student individually. This includes making sure communication is clear, answering questions one-on-one, and using a mix of teaching methods like whiteboards and presentations. Students will also get more study materials and be encouraged to use the library. Finally, because projects are important for many jobs, teachers will give students more time to work on them and provide more guidance.

In an effort to enhance student learning, instructors will make clear communication a top priority, ensuring students grasp the course material. More in-class time will be devoted to clarifying student doubts, and a wider variety of study materials will be provided. Additionally, the use of visual aids like boards will be emphasized to create a more interactive learning environment.

S4

Informed by student feedback, teaching practices are being revamped to prioritize clear and consistent communication, fostering a more engaging learning environment. This will include dedicated time for instructors to address student doubts and provide individualized support. Additionally, maintaining classroom discipline and utilizing diverse teaching aids alongside comprehensive study materials will be emphasized. To further student success, strategies to prepare them for internal assessments will also be implemented.

In response to student feedback, a comprehensive approach will target a richer learning experience. Faculty will prioritize student engagement by incorporating co-curricular and extracurricular activities. Clear communication will be enhanced through dedicated time for questions, individualized support, and diverse teaching tools like boards and presentations. Instructors are encouraged to provide a wider range of study materials and library resources. Finally, ensuring student success in internal assessments will remain a key focus.

Student feedback has driven effective changes to better prepare graduates for the workforce. Instructors will integrate a wider range of co-curricular activities that connect theory to real-world application.

Personalized learning takes center stage, with faculty prioritizing clear communication, offering individual attention to address questions, and utilizing a mix of traditional (boards) and modern (presentations) teaching aids. Additionally, instructors are expected to provide ample study materials and encourage library use for deeper understanding and independent study. Recognizing the value of project-based learning, faculty will dedicate more time for project completion and provide more comprehensive project guidance.

First Semester:

In response to valuable student feedback, the college enacted positive changes to strengthen foundational knowledge. Additional classes in math and physics were incorporated into the curriculum. Recognizing the challenges of online learning, class times were adjusted to better suit student schedules. Moreover, individual attention was provided within the online environment for each subject, ensuring all students received the support they needed in this flexible learning format.

Third Semester:

Responding to student feedback, the departments implemented several positive changes to benefit third-semester students. To address challenging subjects, additional online classes were offered with flexible timings as requested. Recognizing the need for personalized support, faculty provided individual attention to weaker students even within the online format. Furthermore, professors ensured timely uploads of all study materials, providing students with the convenience to excel in each subject. These proactive measures demonstrate the university's commitment to student success in the online learning environment.

Fifth Semester:

In response to valuable feedback from fifth-semester students, the department implemented a series of improvements to enhance the learning experience. Classes were conducted online with timings adjusted based on student requests to cater to diverse schedules. Additionally, faculty provided individualized support for struggling students within the online environment, ensuring every student received the attention they needed. To bolster comprehension, faculty uploaded all study materials promptly and supplemented them with informative YouTube and NPTEL videos.

The department's commitment extended beyond lectures, with the introduction of engaging online programs that actively involved students. These comprehensive initiatives fostered a dynamic and supportive online learning environment.

Seventh Semester:

The department promptly addressed the challenges faced by seventh-semester students based on their feedback. To bridge knowledge gaps, additional classes were offered for tougher subjects. Understanding the need for flexibility, these classes were conducted online at student-preferred timings. Furthermore, faculty ensured individual attention to struggling students within the online environment, tailoring support to each subject. Consistent attendance was achieved through close monitoring by professors. Additionally, faculty members uploaded essential study materials on time, and supplemented them with valuable NPTEL videos from YouTube. To further enrich the learning experience, a wider range of engaging online programs were implemented, fostering active student participation. Finally, clear and thorough instructions were provided online to guide students through their final projects. Overall, the department adopted a comprehensive and adaptable approach to ensure student success in the online semester.

In response to insightful feedback from second-semester students, significant improvements are underway to enrich the learning journey. Instructors are placing a heightened emphasis on enhancing communication clarity, harnessing interactive tools such as whiteboards and presentations, and meticulously verifying the accuracy of distributed materials. Moreover, there's a keen recognition of the necessity for inclusivity, leading to the provision of easily accessible online resources for students unable to physically attend classes.

S4:

Taking into account the insightful feedback received from fourth-semester students, the faculty is dedicated to elevating the overall learning experience. This commitment entails implementing enhanced communication channels to ensure that every student feels both informed and supported throughout their academic journey. Lectures will be revamped to incorporate a blend of clear explanations, captivating presentations, and meticulously crafted notes to facilitate understanding. Moreover, recognizing the diverse needs of students, online resources will be readily accessible for those unable to attend classes in person. Instructors will also prioritize providing personalized attention and fostering a welcoming classroom atmosphere conducive to open interaction.

Based on the constructive feedback from sixth-semester students, there is a clear emphasis on enhancing communication channels between students and teachers. This entails utilizing clear and engaging presentations, ensuring the availability of accurate course notes, and maintaining a consistent provision of online materials for students who may miss classes. Moreover, students emphasized the importance of receiving individualized attention and fostering a friendly classroom atmosphere, reflecting a desire for personalized support.

Building on valuable insights from eighth-semester students, the faculty is dedicated to elevating the educational experience. This will involve implementing improved communication strategies for enhanced clarity and accessibility. Professors will actively incorporate diverse teaching methods, including whiteboards and presentations, alongside providing accurate and comprehensive course materials. Recognizing the importance of inclusivity, online learning resources will continue to be readily available for students unable to attend in-person classes. These adjustments aim to foster a more supportive and enriching academic environment for all second-semester students.

S4

In light of feedback received from fourth-semester students, pedagogical practices are being refined to enhance the learning experience. Instructors will prioritize clear and consistent communication with students to foster a more engaged learning environment. Additionally, a renewed focus will be placed on maintaining classroom discipline to optimize learning conditions. To ensure student comprehension, instructors will be encouraged to dedicate ample time to clarifying doubts and providing individualized attention. Furthermore, the use of diverse teaching aids, such as blackboards and presentations, will be emphasized alongside the provision of comprehensive study materials. Finally, with a view towards successful internal assessment performance, faculty will implement strategies to prepare students effectively for these examinations.

S6

In light of feedback received from sixth semester students, a multi-faceted approach has been implemented to enhance the learning experience. Instructors will now prioritize fostering student engagement through increased involvement in co-curricular and extracurricular activities. Additionally, a strong emphasis has been placed on improving communication channels between faculty and students. This includes ensuring ample time for clarifying doubts, providing individualized attention, and utilizing a variety of pedagogical tools like boards and presentations. Furthermore, instructors are encouraged to provide a wider range of study materials and dedicate more time for students to utilize library resources. Finally, ensuring students are well-prepared for internal assessments remains a key objective. This comprehensive strategy aims to cultivate a more enriching and supportive academic environment for all sixth-semester students.

S8

In light of feedback received from eighth semester students, pedagogical adjustments have been implemented to enhance their preparedness for industry. Instructors are now encouraged to incorporate a wider variety of co-curricular activities that bridge the gap between academic learning and professional application. Additionally, a focus on personalized learning has been emphasized. Faculty members are urged to prioritize effective communication, providing individual attention to address student inquiries, and utilizing a combination of traditional (board) and modern (PPT) teaching tools. Furthermore, to facilitate deeper understanding and independent study, instructors are expected to provide ample study materials and encourage library use. Recognizing the importance of project-based learning, faculty will dedicate increased time for student project completion and provide more comprehensive project guidance.

Action Taken on Teachers feedback Report

SNGCET is dedicated to fostering a vibrant learning environment for both faculty and students. To achieve this, we conduct a comprehensive faculty feedback survey frequently, and the valuable insights received have spurred a series of impactful actions.

Recognizing the power of technology in education, the college has invested in smart classrooms, equipping faculty with cutting-edge tools to create engaging and interactive learning experiences. Responding to faculty requests, the library has significantly expanded its collection by acquiring new books and resources. This enriched selection empowers faculty with a wider range of materials to curate dynamic and informative curricula.

Understanding the challenges faced by faculty commuting long distances, the college has implemented a reliable and comfortable transportation facility. This initiative fosters well-being and enables faculty to arrive refreshed and focused for their teaching duties.

Embracing continuous learning, the college has planned a series of webinars and workshops for both faculty and students. These sessions provide a platform for knowledge exchange and empower faculty to stay abreast of advancements in their fields. The college is excited to announce a series of technical events to expecting the active involvement of our faculty members. These events will celebrate faculty achievements and contribute to the college's intellectual discourse.

The Faculty has embarked on a collective initiative to create a positive and well-managed learning environment for all students. This commitment ensures a smooth transition back to physical classrooms after the pandemic.

Recognizing the importance of a sustainable campus, college has amped up efforts to maintain a clean and green environment. This fosters a healthy learning environment and promotes responsible practices among students.

2020-2021

We are committed to fostering a thriving academic environment for both faculty and students. In light of this commitment, we conduct feedback survey among our esteemed faculty members frequently. Their valuable insights have been instrumental in shaping many initiatives:

Recognizing the need for advanced teaching aids, smart classrooms are rolled out across various departments. These interactive spaces will equip faculty with the latest digital tools to enhance their teaching methods and provide a more engaging learning experience for students.

We understand the importance of a well-stocked library for academic success. Based on faculty recommendations, we have significantly expanded our library collection by acquiring a substantial number of new books and academic resources. This will ensure that students have access to a wider range of relevant materials to support their studies.

In recognition of the ongoing pandemic and the need for a seamless transition to online learning, we are providing faculty with access to high-speed internet facilities within the college premises. This will empower them to conduct online classes effectively and provide quality education remotely.

Acknowledging the challenges faced by many faculty members who travel long distances, we are implementing a convenient and reliable transportation service. This initiative aims to minimize commute-related stress and allow faculty to focus on their academic pursuits with renewed energy.

Considering the well-being of our faculty during this unprecedented time, we have introduced on-campus food services. This will provide them with easy access to nutritious meals, further facilitating their time on campus.

Action Taken on Teachers feedback Report

We place immense value on the feedback received from our esteemed faculty. Their insights provide a vital roadmap for continuously improving the college experience for both educators and students alike.

Recognizing the growing importance of online learning resources, the college is taking significant steps to expand its digital library. We will be acquiring a wider selection of e-books and online journals, ensuring faculty have access to a comprehensive and readily available research platform. Additionally, the implementation of more online teaching platforms will be explored, offering greater flexibility and catering to diverse learning styles.

In response to the feedback, the college plans to introduce a more robust online component to student activities. This will allow for increased participation and engagement, regardless of location or time constraints. We believe this blended approach will broaden the reach of extracurricular activities and provide valuable online learning experiences.

The college recognizes the immense value faculty bring by publishing their research and expertise. To facilitate this, we will be exploring the organization of technical festivals that provide a platform for faculty to showcase their work, fostering collaboration and knowledge exchange within the academic community. Additionally, we are committed to exploring flexible scheduling options for online classes, catering to the convenience of our esteemed faculty members.

The feedback process represents a collaborative effort between faculty and college administration. The actions outlined serve as a testament to our dedication to fostering a vibrant learning environment that empowers both faculty and students. We are confident that these initiatives will pave the way for a more innovative, engaging, and technologically advanced educational experience for all.

We are grateful to our dedicated faculty for their valuable feedback regarding the overall college experience. Their insights are instrumental in fostering a positive and productive learning environment for both students and educators.

The feedback reinforces our understanding of the crucial role faculty play in shaping student academic performance. We acknowledge and appreciate the dedication and expertise they bring to the classroom.

The college recognizes the importance of providing faculty with the necessary tools for effective teaching. Based on the feedback, additional smart classrooms will be implemented to meet faculty requirements. Furthermore, the library will be expanding its collection by ordering more books and academic journals, ensuring faculty have access to a wider range of resources.

The feedback highlights a desire for more engaging activities for students. In response, plans are underway to develop a more comprehensive calendar of extracurricular activities. These activities will prioritize industry-related and research-focused experiences, equipping students with practical skills and fostering a spirit of exploration.

We are committed to creating a clean, green, and plastic-free campus. Initiatives will be implemented to promote environmental responsibility and ensure a healthy learning environment.

Maintaining a disciplined and respectful atmosphere is paramount. We will work collaboratively to establish clear guidelines and ensure their consistent enforcement.

We believe in fostering a collaborative spirit where faculty actively participate in shaping the future of the college. We will continue to work together to cultivate a learning environment that empowers both faculty and students to achieve their full potential.

ACTION TAKEN BASED ON FEEDBACK ANALYSIS

Grand Alumni Meet on 15-08-2023

Based on the feedback analysis, it seems like the majority of alumni are satisfied with their experience, which is a positive sign. However, there's always room for improvement. Here are some remedies to address any areas of concern:

Engage Dissatisfied Alumni: While it's great that there are no "somewhat dissatisfied" responses, it's essential to proactively engage with alumni who may have had less than satisfactory experiences. Reach out to them individually to understand their concerns and find ways to address them effectively.

Enhance Communication Channels: Improve communication channels to keep alumni informed about the latest developments, events, and opportunities within the alumni network and the institution. This could include regular newsletters, social media updates, and alumni-exclusive platforms.

Personalized Engagement: Tailor engagement efforts to the specific interests and needs of different alumni groups. This could involve organizing targeted events, workshops, or networking opportunities based on career stages, industries, or areas of interest.

Continuous Feedback Mechanism: Implement a system for continuous feedback collection from alumni to identify emerging issues promptly and make timely improvements. This could include surveys, focus groups, or regular feedback sessions.

Enhance Alumni Benefits: Review and enhance the benefits and services offered to alumni, such as career counselling, access to resources, discounts on further education, or networking opportunities. Ensure that these benefits align with the evolving needs of alumni.

Strengthen Alumni-Student Mentorship Programs: Foster stronger connections between alumni and current students through mentorship programs. This not only benefits students but also provides alumni with opportunities for meaningful engagement and gives them a sense of fulfilment.

Expand Alumni Network: Actively work on expanding the alumni network by reaching out to alumni who may have lost touch and encouraging them to reconnect. Utilize social media platforms and alumni directories to facilitate connections.

Celebrate Success Stories: Highlight the achievements and success stories of alumni to inspire and motivate both current students and other alumni. This can foster a sense of pride and belonging within the alumni community.

Address Concerns Regarding Neutral Responses: While neutral responses aren't inherently negative, they could indicate areas where alumni feel indifferent or lack strong engagement. Dig deeper into the reasons behind these responses and explore ways to enhance alumni engagement and satisfaction.

Implement Alumni Engagement Metrics: Establish key performance indicators to track alumni engagement and satisfaction over time. Use these metrics to measure the effectiveness of remedial efforts and identify areas for further improvement.

By implementing these remedies, you can not only address any existing concerns but also foster a stronger sense of community and engagement among alumni, ultimately benefiting both the alumni network and the institution as a whole.

ACTION TAKEN BASED ON FEEDBACK ANALYSIS

Grand Alumni Meet on -01-05-2022

Based on the feedback analysis, it seems like the majority of alumni are satisfied with their experience, which is a positive sign. However, there's always room for improvement. Here are some remedies to address any areas of concern:

1. Enhance Communication and Engagement: Improve communication channels and engagement efforts with alumni to keep them connected and informed about developments at SNGCET.
2. Tailor Services and Programs: Customize alumni services and programs based on feedback to better meet the diverse needs and interests of alumni.
3. Address Neutral Responses: Reach out to those who were neutral and gather more specific feedback to understand their reasons for being neutral. This could help identify areas for improvement.
4. Evaluate Dissatisfaction: Investigate the reasons behind the somewhat dissatisfied responses to address any specific issues or concerns raised by this segment of respondents.
5. Alumni Mentorship Programs: Establish alumni mentorship programs where experienced alumni can mentor current students and recent graduates, providing valuable insights and guidance for career development.
6. Improve Fair-Rated Programs: Gather more detailed feedback from respondents who rated programs or services as fair to understand specific areas for improvement. This could involve refining processes, adding resources, or adjusting program content to better meet expectations.
7. Feedback Integration: Implement a systematic feedback integration process where feedback from alumni and stakeholders is consistently collected, analyzed, and used to make informed decisions about program and service improvements.
8. Communication and Transparency: Enhance communication and transparency about program offerings, benefits, and improvements to ensure that alumni are aware of the positive changes being made based on their feedback.

9. Customized Engagement Activities: Explore other engagement activities based on specific interests or needs identified by alumni, such as community service projects, sports tournaments, art exhibitions, or book clubs.
10. Organize Social Gatherings: Plan and host social gatherings such as reunions, networking mixers, alumni dinners, or cultural events to provide opportunities for alumni to connect and socialize in a relaxed environment.
11. Networking Events: Organize networking events or platforms where alumni can connect with each other, share experiences, collaborate on projects, and explore potential career opportunities or partnerships.
12. Offer Diverse Engagement Activities: Provide a range of engagement activities that cater to different interests and preferences of alumni, including networking events, professional development workshops, social gatherings, mentorship programs, and community service projects.
13. Engage Alumni Ambassadors: Identify and engage enthusiastic alumni as ambassadors who can actively promote SNGCET to their networks, participate in recruitment events, and share their positive experiences with others.
14. Highlight Positive Experiences: Showcase success stories, achievements, and positive experiences of alumni to potential students, parents, and other stakeholders to highlight the value and benefits of SNGCET.
15. Engage Alumni Volunteers: Recruit alumni volunteers to participate in mentoring programs, career counselling sessions, networking events, and other initiatives aimed at supporting fellow alumni in their post-graduation endeavours.

By implementing these remedies, you can not only address any existing concerns but also foster a stronger sense of community and engagement among alumni, ultimately benefiting both the alumni network and the institution as a whole.

ACTION TAKEN BASED ON FEEDBACK ANALYSIS

Based on the feedback analysis, it seems like the majority of alumni are satisfied with their experience, which is a positive sign. However, there's always room for improvement. Here are some remedies to address any areas of concern:

1. Positive Reinforcement: Since a significant portion of respondents are very satisfied, it's essential to reinforce what aspects of their experience are contributing to this high level of satisfaction. Recognizing and reinforcing these positive aspects can help maintain and even improve satisfaction levels.
2. Continuous Improvement: Use the feedback analysis as a tool for continuous improvement. Regularly collect feedback, analyse trends, and implement changes based on the feedback received. This iterative approach can help in creating a better overall experience for students and stakeholders at SNGCET.
3. Career Guidance and Counselling: Strengthen career guidance services to help students make informed decisions about their career paths. This can include workshops, one-on-one counselling sessions, and resources for exploring various career options.
4. Alumni Engagement: Leverage the experiences and success stories of alumni to inspire current students and provide networking opportunities. Alumni mentorship programs can be beneficial in guiding students towards successful career paths.
5. Feedback Loop: Maintain a feedback loop where alumni and current students can share their experiences and provide insights for continuous improvement. This can help in identifying areas of strength and areas needing enhancement in influencing career paths.
6. Enhanced Communication: Improve communication channels between students and faculty/administration to ensure that feedback is effectively communicated and acted upon.
7. Student Involvement: Involve students in the improvement process by seeking their suggestions and feedback on how programs and services can be enhanced to better meet their needs and expectations.

8. Promote Networking Culture: Encourage a networking culture within the institution by highlighting success stories of networking, facilitating introductions between alumni and students, and providing networking tips and resources.
9. Collect Feedback Regularly: Continuously collect feedback from participants of networking events to understand their experiences, preferences, and suggestions for improvement. Use this feedback to iterate and enhance future networking opportunities.
10. Other Activities: Explore other engagement activities based on alumni interests and feedback. This could include volunteer opportunities, alumni newsletters, webinars, or collaborative projects.
11. Recognize and Celebrate Alumni Achievements: Highlight the achievements and contributions of alumni through alumni spotlights, awards, and recognition programs. Celebrating alumni success stories can inspire engagement and foster a sense of pride within the community.
12. Seek Feedback and Input: Regularly seek feedback from alumni to understand their engagement levels, interests, and suggestions for improvement. Use this feedback to tailor engagement initiatives and ensure they meet the needs of the alumni community.
13. Address Neutral Responses: Engage with respondents who are neutral about recommending SNGCET and gather feedback to understand their perspectives. Address any concerns or areas where improvement is needed to potentially convert neutral responses into positive recommendations.
14. Address Dissatisfaction (Somewhat Dissatisfied): While the percentage of somewhat dissatisfied respondents is low, it's important to address their concerns. Conduct targeted surveys or interviews to gather detailed feedback, and take actionable steps to address any issues raised. This could involve improvements in communication, alumni services, or other areas identified as contributing to dissatisfaction.
15. Evaluate Effectiveness: Regularly evaluate the effectiveness of alumni support services through feedback, surveys, and metrics such as utilization rates and satisfaction levels. Use this data to make data-driven decisions and continuously improve the services offered.

By implementing these remedies, we can not only address any existing concerns but also foster a stronger sense of community and engagement among alumni, ultimately benefiting both the alumni network and the institution as a whole.
